McNair
(MacNair, McNear, NacNear, MacNeir)

by: Jonathan B. Butcher, Professional NC Genealogist, 1982

JOHN McNAIR of North Carolina:

John McNair, according to his own account, was born in 1735 in the Parish of Kilkenny in the Shire of Argyle, the youngest son of Neil McNair. He came to NC in 1770, and bought a plantation at Hitchcock in Anson County. He married first Jennet Smylie, who died in 1769, and secondly Catherine (Buie) McFarland, who by her first husband was mother of Rep. Duncan McFarland. John is said to have lived a while in Richmond County, and died in 1819. We are rather fortunate that we have these accounts of the family, for little direct record can be found of this John. Part of the problem is that the McNairs were one of those Clans that migrated En Masse to NC, and 17 different McNair families, including four John McNairs, appear in Richmond and Robeson Counties on the 1790 census.

I was first able to confirm much of this data from grave records reported in the W.P.a. card file. Most of the early members of John's family apparently have two grave markers, one in the McFarland cemetery near Leurinburg, in Scotland County, and one at the Old Laurel Hill Church cemetery in Rockinsham, Richmond County (Scotland County was formed from Richmond County in 1899). The more informative grave for John McNair is the one at the McFarland Cemetery, which says he died June 30, 1819, aged 84 years. He is buried near his wife Catherine, who died in August 1787, aged 54 years, and his son, Roderick McNair born in Oct. 1764, who died April 6, 1839. Roderick's grave states he was "Born in Argyle Shire Scotland", and came to America in 1770. Rev. Malcolm McNair, son of John and Catherine, died Aug. 4, 1822, and is buried at Old Laurel Hill Church, where he served. Two other graves of probable relatives are also of interest for the light they share on the family's origin. Daniel McNair Sr., "Native of Cantyre Scotland" died in Oct. 1806 and is buried at Old Center Church, Richmond Co. Edward McNair, "A native of Kintyre Scotland", died in 1781 and is buried in the MacNair Cemetery near Wagram, Scotland Co. The McNairs thus seem to have been associated with Cantyre/Kintyre just as were the Gilchrists and McMillans.

We would expect to first find our John McNair in the Anson County deeds, but I did not find him there. Thus if he did indeed purchase land there the deed was not recorded. We do find early purchases by Neil McNair (28 Dec. 1773) and Edward McNair (26 Nov. 1774), but these are both for land in Richmond Co., created from Anson Co. in 1779. Likely John did live for a time in Richmond County. Certainly Duncan McFarland appears in many deeds there, some transacting with McNairs, and it may be that John settled for a while on land belonging to his second wife, Widow McFarland. I have not however, been able to identify her first husband from the probates (and Duncan appears in too many deeds to easily search), and possibly she came to this country a widow.

At the time of the 1790 census the following McNairs are listed in Richmond County: (white males over 16-same under 16-white females-free blacks-slaves).

McNair, John	1-2-3-0-0.
Neil	2-0-2-0-0.

Gilbert	1-1-5-0-1.
Malcolm	1-2-2-0-0.
Margaret	0-1-2-0-0.
John (Hatter)	1-0-3-0-0.
Niel Jr.	1-1-2-0-0.
Daniel	1-2-1-0-1.
Margaret	0-1-2-0-0.
John (S. Master)	1-1-1-0-0.
Roger	3-0-2-0-0.
Edward	1-0-1-0-0.
Roger	3-0-2-0-0.
John	1-1-1-0-0.
Edward	2-0-3-0-0.
Archd.	1-0-1-0-0.

Various Buies and Smilies are also found here. Meanwhile in Robeson Co. we find:

McNair, Roger	2-1-2-0-0.

Our John may be the first John McNair listed in Richmond County (We can prove he was not 'John Hatter'), but, as we will see below, none of the John McNair deeds there can be positively linked to him. I think however, that John's son, Roderick, is the Roger McNair listed in Robeson at this time (the only McNair in Robeson), as the names Roderick and Roger were used interchangeably among the Scottish settlers, Roger being the short form of Roderick. (The other Roger McNair, of Richmond, made a will in 1792). Since our Roderick was not born until Oct. 1764 and was thus 25 1/2 in 1790, and our John was Widowed in 1787, I suspect that John is actually the second male over the age 16 in "Roger's" household in this year, and John's younger children may also be enumerated here. Perhaps Roderick had just married at this time and had no children of his own yet.

"Roger" McNair does appear to have moved from Richmond to Robeson County, for in a Richmond deed of 15 June 1791, "Roger McNair of Roberson County" sold 143 acres on Solomons Creek in Richmond County to Allen McCaskill (C:171, witnessed by Finley McCaskill & Kenneth McCaskill). Roger had obtained land in Robeson before 1787, for on 20 July 1787 "Roger McNear of Robeson County" sold for 154 pounds to Malcolm McNear (an Uncle?..this is too early to be John's son Malcom) 100 acres "west of Drounding Creek at a place called the Springs" (A:70, witnessed by Dugal McFarland, Daniel McFarland). Drowning Creek is of course the old name for the upper section of Lumber River, which forms part of the bountary between Scotland and Robeson Counties. John might well have bought land here by a now lost Bladen deed, made before Robeson was created 1787-or else he may simply have lived on his son's land.

In a later deed of 11 June 1800, Samuel Dubois, Attorney for Samuel Meeker, sold 100 acres south on Drowning Creek to Roderick McNair (I:358). On the same date, the same man, who was disposing of many lots, sold to John MacNair Junr. 100 acres between Shoeheel and Drowning Creek (K:72). Now our John is not known to have had a son John Jr., but this may have been a nephew, so called to distinguish him from the uncle. It was also probably John Jr. who was the John McNair who on 25 Dec. 1799 purchased 100 acres northwest of Shoeheel from Daniel Campbell (I:263, witnessed by Alexander McKay, Hugh McKay). Two earlier Robeson deeds may help to identify this John: On 17 Oct. 1785, John Powers of Robeson sold to John McNair of the same 25 acres on Little Branch, "Joining the land whereon Widow McNair now lives" (E:477). Powers made another sale of adjacent property to John, Caty, Margaret, and Nancy McNair, "Who goes equal shares" (E:450).

I suspect that our John McNair died in Robeson County, even though buried further west. He did not leave a Will, and estate papers of this period did not survive for Robeson. Court Minutes are also lacking for 1814-1829, so we do not know what probate proceedings, if any, followed his death. There do not appear to have been any deeds recorded for disposition of his land at this time; but as we saw above, he may have lived on his son's land.

John McNair was the son of Neil, and grandson of Edward McNair, and it appears that some of his brothers and cousins also came to this country. One brother was apparently Neil McNair, who was born before 1727 according to the State Census of 1787 (over 60). Neil purchased land on the Pee Dee in Anson County from Henley Sneed on 28 Dec. 1773 (K:55). This land fell into Richmond County where Neil sold land to Duncan McFarland, among others. Neil McNair Senr. made his Will in Richmond on 19 Nov. 1794, proven July 1808, naming Duncan McFarland, Gilbert McNair, and "my brother Jno. McNair" as executors. His heirs were his wife, Mary, sons John and Neil, a daughter, Mary, and a step-daughter, Margaret. Neil's son John was called "John the Hatter" McNair, and apparently married his wife Katharine about 1787. He had grant on Little Juniper on 9 Aug. 1787. With wife Katharine he sold 100 acres of this to Archibald McCairn on 6 Feb. 1788 (B:255) this was after our John's wife Katharine (I suspect Mr. Butcher meant Catherine here) had died, and on 9 April 1790 he sold another 100 acres to his brother, Neil McNair Jr. (C:47, witnessed by Duncan McFarland & Daniel McLawhland). (Again I suspect Mr. Butcher meant Daniel McFarland). If he married again, this might be the John McNair who made his Will in Richmond on 11 Feb. 1808, naming wife Jennet, son Daniel, and daughters Catherine, Margaret, Rachel, & Jenny.

An Edward McNair made his Will in Richmond on 7 Nov. 1788, but may be the Edward whose grave appears to be dated 1781. He names his wife Mary, sons Neil and John, and daughters Mary, Barbara, and Catherine. Witnesses were Duncan McBride, Edward McPherson and James Watson. Another possible brother of our John was an elder, Roger (Roderick) McNair, who made his will in Richmond 7 Aug. 1792, naming only his wife, Mary and youngest son, Alexander. Witnesses were Neill McNair, Edward Curry, and Edward McNair.

KILLEAN and KILCHENZIE REGISTER

I obtained a microfilm of the parish register of Killean and Kilchenzie, Argyll, which begins in 1762. I read this for 1762-1790, but alas found no mention of a Wilkeson family, nor mention of a village called Dura. The next step in locating this family would seem to be examining the Campbelltown Lowland Registers, since we know that the McNairs and other in-laws of the Wilkeson/Wilkinsons came from Kintyre or Cantyre in that Parish. I have ordered microfilm of these records, which are preserved back as far as 1656.

In Killean and Kilchenzie we do find many McMillans and Gilchrists, and a few McNairs. One John McNair of Claongart had three children baptized:

Mary, Bap. 28 Dec. 1764
John, Bap. 17 Feb. 1769
Margaret, Bap. 4 Nov. 1772.

Duncan McNair, of Dulachan, had a son Donald Baptized 27 Sept. 1770.

...The father of Murphy C. MacNair was the pioneer Presbyterian Minister, Rev. Malcolm NacNair, who figures so promenently in Religious history of North Carolina, a man of the highest talents, 20 years pastor of Centre, Ashpole, Laurel Hill and Red Bluff churches. Born Aug. 26, 1776, died Aug. 4, 1822 and buried at Laurel Hill, married the orphan (blank) of Petersburg, VA., who left her home when 12 years of age and lived with her mother's brother, Harrison (a man of wealth). The father of the Rev. Malcolm MacNair, was the Presbyterian Elder, John MacNair, who lived awhile in Richmond County then moved to Bladen where he settled on Lumber River (now in Robeson Co. where his grandson, Robert McNair lived later), a mason and kept a journal of his family: "I am a native of Scotland, was born in the year of Our Lord 1735 in (blank), a small village of that name in the Parish of Kilkenny in the Shire of Argle, North Britian. I was the youngest son of Neil MacNair. My Grandfather's name was Edward MacNair, my mother's name was Sally McGill. I was married to Jennet Smylie, daughter of John Smylie, December 1763. My eldest son, Roderick, was born October 1764. My daughter Betsy was born January 1766. My third child, Neill, in 1768. My first wife died September 1769, and my third child, Neill, died in December of the same year. I came to North Carolina in America in the year 1770 and bought a plantation at Hitchcock in Anson County and lived there some time. I married my second wife, Catherine Buie, daughter of Donald Buie from Dure, Scotland, in 1772. My eldest daughter by my second wife was born in 1773. My first son by my second wife, Malcom, was born August 1776. My second wife died Aug. 1787." His grandfather added some explanatory notes to the above: The second wife, Mrs. Catherine (Buie) McFarland had several children by her first husband. One of them, Duncan McFarland, was a great man in the counties of Richmond and Robeson and a member of Congress for several years. By her second marriage, there were two children: Sarah (who married Peter Wilkinson and moved to (1820 Jefferson Co.) Mississippi where she had a large family) and the Rev. Malcom MacNair.

My Dear Cousin

I received your welcome letter a short time ago. I thought at the time to sit down and reply imediately but circumstances forbid. You are aware that brother Murphys health has declining for some years. Sometimes he would improve for a while but it would not last long. Since the 1st of October he has been gradually failing---about the middl of November he was obliged to take his bed and was confined to it anymore until last tuesday morning the 11th at 11 o-clock AM when his spirit took its flight. Oh! Cousin Daniel it was hard to give him up. The father of that large family---the only brother---but it is Gods will and we must submit. He has not left us withour hope. In his sick chamber where he was confined so long and with no one present but his dear companion he would speak his mind freely often telling her not to grieve for him that all was well---his peace was made. He told Mr. Martin his minister that he had no fears of death, only the pangs of desolation and Mr. martin would pray that he might be spared much suffering in his last hours. He suffered greatly from difficulty of breathing the night before he died - but that passed away and he fell asleep calmly and peacefully. He was surrounded by all his children including his son and daughter-in-law - 13 in number - and they did faithfully serve and minister to all his wants---but the time had come and no earthly power could resist it---On the following day we laid his remains in their last resting place in (Centre) grave yard beside our dear Mother-Peace to his ashes.

I was glad to hear that you and your family were in the enjoyment of good health. Sorry to hear of the helplessness of Cousin James and Catie May---

We are all in our usual health---Evander is still with us, and his health much improved---all our friends so far as I know are well---I saw Archb Wilkinson family a few days ago---They were all well---I met with Cousin (Mary) Wilkinsons Aunt Catherines daughter in October---I thought they had all gone to Texas but she said they were all in Miss. except herself and her youngest brother Edward--- He is married and has a family of seven children and has moved up near Lumberton. She is unmarried and lives with him---She is looking old and feeble. Says her health has not been good in several years.

The Peggy McNair you spoke of lived about nine miles above Laurel Hill. She was a Sister of (Red) John McNair----some of his sons are I think living in your state---either in Covington or Simpson County-One is named (Josphet) they are no relation of ours that I am aware of -- She lived alone and was very old.

We had a very dry summer and fall-beautiful weather for gathering crops which were much injured by the dry weather. While the rains with you were incessant our wells were nearly dry and our stock suffering for water, but since winter sat in we have had a good deal of rain and snow and some of the coldest weather I ever experienced. Today is the most pleasant day we have had in a long time.

You must remember me kindly to all your family. Tell Cousin Mary her relatives here are all well-I don't know if I have written you since the death of Cousin Neill Buie. He died in May after suffering 20 years with Cancer. Kiss my little name sake for me and tell her she must be a good girl and come and see me when she gets big enough. Write me as soon as convenient. From your affectionate cousin

Annabela

I forgot to say we hear regularly from my sister in Alabama. They are all well. One of her little grandson (Maggie's Son) little Jamie a favorite child died about the first of October.

Thanks for the Clarien I will send some Presbyterians soon.

which few young men of his day were able to procure. After completing his education he taught school for one session, and then retired to his father's farm. In 1843 he engaged in the mercantile business in Jacksonville, Mississippi, under the firm name McNair & Co. But when the war between Mexico and the United States began in 1846 he enlisted as a private in the State Fencibles, which was mustered into the Mississippi Regiment of Rifles at Vicksburg, under Colonel Jefferson Davis. He served throughout the war and was promoted to orderly sergeant of Company E.

Upon being mustered out, he went to Brandon, Mississippi, in 1850 where he went into the dry goods business with D. W. Wilkinson. In 1856 he went on a tour through Texas. Then he went to Washington, Arkansas, and again engaged in the mercantile business.

On August 11, 1859, he married Hannah Merrill, of Oxford, New York. She at this time was an assistant in a school for girls in Washington, Arkansas, and considered a very fine teacher.

On the breaking out of the Civil War he organized a battalion of seven companies of infantry, afterward the Fourth Arkansas Confederate Infantry. They immediately set out to join Brigadier General McCulloch, in southwest Missouri, and were mustered into Confederate service August 17, 1861. They were then a part of McCulloch's Division. Evander McNair commanded his regiment in the battle of Elk Horn, and when McCulloch and McIntosh had fallen, and Colonel Louis Herbert, of the Third Louisiana Infantry, the senior captain, had been captured, in the early stages of the battle, he commanded the infantry of the division, and repulsed the enemy in front of the Confederate right.

For the manner in which Colonel McNair commanded his brigade and routed the enemy in the battle of Shiloh on August 30, 1862, he was promoted on the battle field of Richmond, Kentucky, by General Kirby Smith to a brigadier generalship which was confirmed by the War Department April 22, 1863. After his promotion he was assigned to command of the brigade to which his old regiment belonged.

He was in command of his brigade at the battle of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, on December 31, 1862. Afterward he was with General

Joseph E. Johnston in his effort to relieve the beleaguered city of Vicksburg, Mississippi; and still later, with his brigade, took an active and efficient part in the battle of Chickamauga, where he received a wound in the thigh, which, though not dangerous, incapacitated him for service in the field for a long time. He was transferred to the Trans-Mississippi Department just before the Christmas following. Upon recovering from his wound he was assigned to the command of one of the four brigades in General Churchill's division. This division, composed of light infantry, was not engaged in any important battle after this.

After the war, General McNair remained for a short time in Washington, Arkansas, and then went to New Orleans in the wholesale grocery business. Because of his wife's health they moved to Magnolia, Mississippi, where his wife died October 13, 1878. After this he and his children moved to Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

General McNair was a member of the Odd Fellows for forty years. He was a Presbyterian and a regular attendant at church, even when he had to be taken to church in a carriage, until he was unable to go any more. He was conservative in his views and tolerant but firm in his convictions. It is said that had he devoted his life to military affairs he would have been distinguished among the foremost military men of the age. Although he was public spirited and patriotic he had no taste for public life, but found his enjoyment in the private walks of life. He was a commanding personality—tall, erect, graceful, and deliberate in every movement. In politics he was a Whig before the Civil War, but afterward he joined the Democratic party.

His later years were mostly spent with his daughter, Mrs. Eaton, at Hattiesburg. A few weeks before his death he visited his other daughter, Mrs. Fairly, near Hattiesburg, where he was suddenly taken ill November 9, and died November 13, 1902. He is buried beside his wife in Magnolia, Mississippi.

ANNALS

Lorn (John) McNair was land steward for Lord Archibald Campbell, Marquis of Lorn; he was also foster father to the young lord. His son Neil McNair was the young lord's foster brother, this is, his mother nursed the young lord at the same time she did him.

It naturally followed that he was at the Castle a great deal, and associated with the people there, and so he met and fell in love with Miss Margaret Martin, whose father was a merchant of Glasgow. He forbid the marriage, and when she married in defiance of his wish, she was cast off, and her family never forgave her. After the marriage he still lived at Lord Campbells, untill John, the second son was four years old. Neil was the eldest. He also had two daughters, Mary and Sallie.

Neil McNair, the foster brother ~~of Lord Campbell, had~~ two brothers; Edward who was the grandfather of Judge J. E. McNair, and another whose name I have forgotten, who was the father of the old preacher, Malcom McNair.

When our grandfather, John McNair, was four years old, his father Neil came to America. They were three months on the ocean. The young Lord Campbell would send him presents of money and clothing so long as he lived. Our grandfather was a hatter by trade He married Nancy Flethher, or Lasseley, as she was called by the Scotch. She was an orphan, but had a stepmother who came with her to Mississippi. She came from Scotland at the age of two years. When they were married they started to his home; he had a very fine horse; she was afraid to ride, so they bundled up her belongings and he carried them on the horse, and she walked in front with her flax wheel on her shoulder. His brother Neil married a McCoy, and was the grandfather of the Fairlys at Hattisburg. His sister Mary married a Ferguson. She had not children. Sallie married McDuffie and had two sons. His grandson John McDuffie died at Laurel.

Our grandfather John McNair had eleven children; Neil the eldest never married. He was a school teacher, died in Hinds or Madison County. Margaret, the second Married Duncan Buchanan After they moved to Mississippi. When Evander, the youngest child was two years old, they started to Mississippi. John McNair prospered in Carolina. He followed his trade of hat making, and bought a negro woman to help his children farm. I do not know the date of their removal to Mississippi, but it was during the Seminole and Creek war. There were a number of families together for defense from the Indians, and some young men. Mr. Archie McCollum came with them, and made his home with them until he married. also Mr. McCaskill, father of Lawrence McCaskill. As they were coming through South Carolina, they were overtaken by an elegantly dressed young lady and an Indian boy. It was the daughter and son of the great General McIntosh, who married an Indian. ~~She had been at school in Baltimore and was going home.~~ She was fair and wonderfully handsom, while the boy was a regular Indian. She had been at school in Baltimore and was going home. She got off her horse, and walked a piece with grandmother, and invited the woman to stop at her father's house for dinner, but they did not have time. When they got into Alabama, then began the excit exciting times. The old men and women and children went down the river in a boat.

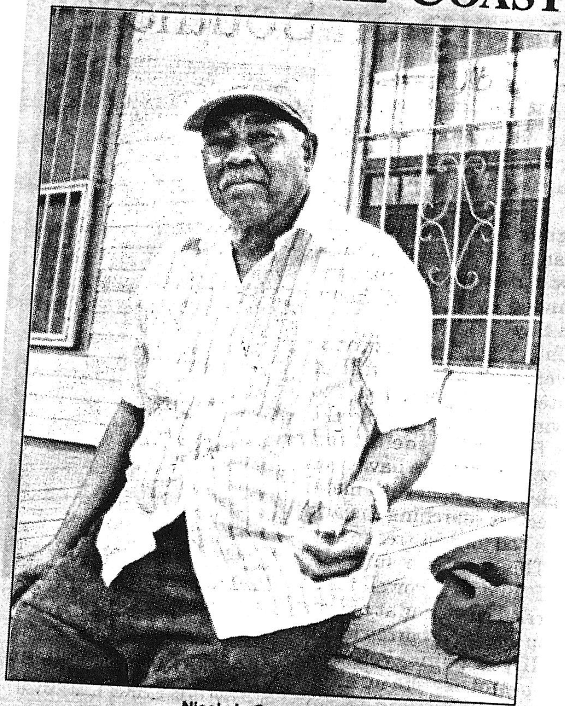
FACES OF THE COAST



Nicole LaCour Young/The Mississippi Press

John A. McNair

John McNair is a 38-year resident of Moss Point. McNair, a retired welder supervisor at then-Ingalls, began his career when he was in his late 20s and worked his way up from a beginner to a supervisor. McNair said he's seen lots of strikes at the shipyard but he was always a manager and had to continue working. Retired on disability, McNair said he's spent his retired years trying to get his knees better. He recently had surgery on both knees but said he gets around pretty good. McNair has 16 children who are scattered all across the country and he has 17 grandchildren.
